Get ready to pack your bags because 2022 will bring a host of high design hotels all around the world.

A room at the Sommerro features original 1930s Art Deco detailing.

Sommerro

This luxurious new member of Preferred Hotels will give new life to the former headquarters of Oslo Lysverker, the city's original electrical company. The design by local firm LPO Architects in collaboration with New York and London GrecoDeco will pay homage to the building's 1930s heritage with Art Deco details and a giant wall fresco and ceiling mural portraying the wonders of electricity. There will be four restaurants, including one on the rooftop terrace, which will also have the city's first rooftop pool and sauna. The building's original public baths are being restored and expanded into an 8,000-square-foot underground wellness center complete with treatment rooms, Roman baths, infrared sauna, and a cold plunge pool for a Nordic thermotherapy experience. Opening September 2022; sommerrohouse.com
