Sommerro, Norway

Tucked away within one of Oslo's oldest neighborhoods and surrounded by 19th-century architecture, Sommerro is set to be Oslo's coolest new urban escape.

Slated to open in September 2022, the hotel's 242 rooms will blend traditional Nordic design -- clean lines and chic minimalism -- with pops of color and art deco accents such as sculptural lighting and curved paneling. Communal spaces are just as chic and charming: there's a plant-filled cafe, a Nordic-Japanese restaurant with sweeping city views and Oslo's first rooftop pool.

Rates starting from $230.
