

LUXURY LONDON

The best new luxury hotels set to open in 2022

Escape the ordinary at these exquisite new openings across the globe

Not been brave enough to plan your big 2022 holiday yet? With international travel still up in the air, you can hardly be blamed. However, with airlines and hotel groups adapting to the realities of the pandemic, many are now offering extended cancellation policies so you can book with peace of mind. And haven't we all earned a lavish holiday after the tumult of the past two years?

Good news, then, that 2022 isn't going to be short of luxurious new hotels to choose from. From an exquisite Raffles outpost in London to new Four Seasons and Aman resorts further afield, these are the best new hotels opening across the globe over the next 12 months...

Europe

Sommerro, Oslo, Norway

Just like The OWO above, Sommerro is as much an exercise in preservation and renovation as it is a gorgeous luxury hotel. Housed in an original 1930s Art Deco building in the historic neighbourhood of Frogner, which was formerly the HQ of electric company Oslo Lysverker, the 231-room property hopes to become a modern homage to local culture and heritage when it opens in September 2022. Original works by celebrated Norwegian artist Per Krohg will feature throughout, while, alongside its four restaurants, three bars and the city's first rooftop pool, the hotel will host a 200-seater theatre in the tradition of classic hotels like The Savoy.

Opening: September 2022
